Choosing the Right Yarn and Needles

When choosing yarn for baby clothes, it's important to select a soft, non-irritating fiber that is machine-washable and dryable. Some good choices for baby yarn include cotton, acrylic, or a blend of the two. You'll also want to choose a yarn that is the right weight for the pattern you're using. Most baby patterns call for worsted weight yarn, but you can also use DK or sport weight yarn if you're looking for a lighter fabric.

The size of the needles you use will depend on the weight of the yarn you're using. For worsted weight yarn, you'll typically use US size 7 or 8 needles. For DK weight yarn, you'll use US size 6 or 7 needles, and for sport weight yarn, you'll use US size 5 or 6 needles.

Caring for Your Finished Garments

Once you've finished knitting your baby clothes, it's important to care for them properly so that they last as long as possible. Here are a few tips:

- Machine-wash your garments on a gentle cycle in cold water.
- Tumble dry your garments on a low heat setting.
- Do not bleach or iron your garments.
- Store your garments in a cool, dry place.
