Immerse Yourself in the Lowcountry

The Lowcountry of South Carolina serves as the picturesque backdrop for this captivating novel. Frank's vivid descriptions paint a vibrant tapestry of sun-kissed beaches, verdant marshes, and charming coastal towns. The sights, sounds, and flavors of this unique region come alive on the page, immersing readers in a world both familiar and enchanting.

Characters that Captivate

At the heart of "Same Beach Next Year" are four remarkable women whose lives intertwine in unexpected and profound ways. Maggie, Claire, Ruth, and Mary Alice have been friends since their college days, and their bond has weathered the storms of time and life's challenges. Each woman brings her own unique strengths, struggles, and secrets to the table, making them both relatable and deeply compelling.

- Maggie: A successful businesswoman grappling with the loss of her husband and the weight of her past.

- Claire: A renowned artist navigating the complexities of love and heartbreak.
- Ruth: A compassionate nurse struggling with infertility.
- Mary Alice: A free-spirited adventurer facing her own demons.

Love, Loss, and the Power of Friendship

As the women gather for their annual summer vacation at their beloved beach house, they find themselves at a crossroads in their lives. Maggie is searching for solace and redemption, Claire is grappling with the aftermath of a broken heart, Ruth is longing for a child, and Mary Alice is running from her own painful past. Amidst the sun-drenched days and starlit nights, they confide in one another, share their deepest fears and vulnerabilities, and discover that the power of their friendship can heal even the most broken of hearts.

Witness the unbreakable bond of friendship that transcends time and challenges.
